JFK Insists Russia Pull Out Jet Planes

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U. Thant plunged into a new round of diplomatic talks today as informed sources reported the collapse of plans for inspection of Cuba-bound Soviet ships by the International Red Cross.

Thant conferred privately with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga shortly after word was received here that the International Committee of the Red Cross had decided in Geneva to bow out of the picture.

It was the first time Thant had met Soviet and Cuban representatives together.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who conferred with President Kennedy in Washington Monday, was expected to see Thant later in the day.

Informed sources said the United States would undoubtedly reinstate the naval arms quarantine which was ordered three weeks ago to halt the flow of arms to Cuba. The Red Cross inspection plan had been intended to replace the blockade, now suspended temporarily.

Stevenson and his associates returned to New York Monday night armed with White House orders to keep up their insistence that the Soviet Union pull its jet bombers out of Cuba.

Two Returned to Kansas for Trial

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two men charged in the $16,879 robbery of the Bank of Atkins last summer have been turned over to Kansas authorities for prosecution in connection with a supermarket robbery in Wichita, authorities said Monday.

Deputy Prosecutor James Young said Carroll D. Mallett 24, of North Little Rock and Vernon Wilson, 28, whose various addresses have included North Little Rock, had been held in the People County jail since July 19, seven days after the robbery.

None of the money has been recovered, Young said. A third person charged in the robbery, Mrs. Louise Mallett Loyd, 29, of North Little Rock, is free on $20,000 bond, Young said. He identified her as Mallett's sister.

Robbery charges were filed on Mallett and Wilson July 15 by Arkansas authorities. The supermarket robbery occurred just before the robbery of the Atkins bank. The two men had been free on $7,500 bond, he said.

Young said Mallett and Wilson would eventually be returned to Arkansas for trial on the bank robbery charges.

Church School Aid Tests Suggested

By G. K. HODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent educator proposed today passage of legislation that would enable a prompt court test on the issue of federal grants to church-related colleges.

The suggestion came from Dr. John T. Caldwell, Chancellor of North Carolina State College and president of the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, in a speech prepared for delivery at the association's annual meeting here.

Caldwell said the nation's public colleges need federal aid, but that attempts to get it through Congress usually stumble on the church-state issue.

"Let us avoid the church-state issue, or resolve it, or forget federal aid," he said. "In any case, let us help get it off dead center."

He said the nation's 2,040 institutions of higher education include 807 that are church-related, 721 public and 512 independent, or non-denominational. The nonpublic institutions enroll about 40 percent of today's college students.

Dr. Edward D. Eddy Jr., president of Chatham College, a girls' private school in Pittsburgh, asked the association Monday: "Isn't it high time that the American university prepare a decent, respectable burial for the traditional college fraternity?"

"They have served an historical purpose and served it well," he said. "But we've given up banjo clubs and minstrels. Now it's time to face courageously the task of replacing the alumni-dominated fraternal system."

Eddy said the national fraternity system "has failed to adapt itself to the demands of the new student and a changing social pattern. The system can and should be replaced."

U.S. to Send Trappers Into This Area

Livestock loss due to wolves and Bobcats should be on the decrease beginning November 19, 1962, in the Southwest section of Arkansas, states County Agent Calvin J. Caldwell.

Luther T. Burchfield, District Agent, reports that November 19, 1962, three Government trappers will be assigned and working in this area on predator animal control.

This is a new program started by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in this area as a public service to the livestock owners.

Any one of these trappers can be contacted through my office says County Agent Calvin Caldwell, or Luther T. Burchfield, District Agent, 329 Post Office Building, Little Rock, Ark.

Man Killed in Head-on Wreck

CORNING, Ark. (AP)—Eugene W. Roberts, 38, of Route 1, Noble, was killed in the head-on collision of two cars near Corning Monday night.

State police said the victim was a passenger in a car driven by Farrell Roberts, 20, also of Noble. The Roberts car collided with one driven by Harold Hicks, 28, of Peach Orchard.

Farrell Roberts was hospitalized for observation.

Medical Self Help Training in Jr. High

Mrs. Nita Batson

The Medical Self Help Training Course contains the basic information a person needs to preserve life and health in a national emergency. It has the endorsement and support of the American Medical Association.

This training program is keyed to prepare the American people now to care for themselves, where necessary, by using their own ingenuity and resources they may have on hand at the moment of disaster.

Underlying the Medical Self Help Training concept is the philosophy that "Knowledge Replaces Fear."

The program consists of two parts; one, a reference manual which serves as a resource document; and two, a formal training course to teach people confidence in their ability to survive, along with the skills to make them self-reliant until they can obtain a physician's services.

Hope Junior High School is the first school in the State of Arkansas to include ten of the formal training course's twelve lessons in their basic health curricula for the 1962 and '63 school year.

Pictured is Mrs. Nita Batson, 7th grade Health Teacher as she introduces her students to the contents of the Medical Self Help Training Course.

Witnesses to Shooting Held

MCGEHEE, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff Robert S. Moore said Monday night Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Matthews are being held under bond as material witnesses in the shooting of Upton Staples, 61, of San Antonio, Tex.

Moore said the Matthews were released to a hospital. They were in shock following the shooting, he said.

Staples was killed by a shot from a high-powered rifle while in the living quarters of the Matthews store at McGehee Saturday night, Moore said. Staples, formerly of Dumas, was in the area for the opening of deer season Monday.

Moore said no charges have been filed.

State NAACP Meet

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A speech by the director of legal defense for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will climax a meeting of the Arkansas Chapter of the NAACP next Saturday and Sunday in Pine Bluff. Director Jack Greenburg succeeded Thurgood Marshall, who has been appointed a justice on the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

Marines Call Off Show at Cuban Base

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—The U. S. Marines called off a show of armored force today along the fence between this naval base and Cuba. It apparently had been intended to impress Cuban militiamen who had been throwing rocks at the leather-necks.

Plans for a parade of tanks were announced Monday night in a notice posted at the base news center.

"There will be an armored run along the fence at 8:30 a.m.," it said.

A hurried conference was held in the headquarters of Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, after news of the plan was sent to the United States. The show was canceled.

The notice posted at the news center did not say how many tanks would take part, nor give an official reason for the display.

In one incident, Capt. Patrick E. O'Toole of San Clemente, Calif., said militiamen began throwing rocks at Marines building a machinegun bunker at one point along the 25-mile fence.

A small American flag, which Capt. Gordon L. Pine of San Clemente had raised, was flying over the bunker.

Capt. O'Toole said the Marines reacted like "good professionals." They kept on building the bunker. So far not a shot has been fired along the fence and no one has been hurt by flying rocks since President Kennedy announced the arms quarantine of Cuba on Oct. 22.

Adm. O'Donnell said the Marines have shown remarkable training and discipline. O'Toole said: "The Cubans are starting to make this a personal war and if we ever have to go after them, they are going to wish they had never started throwing rocks."

"We don't get mad," said Cpl. Fine, "but we just wish they would quit messing around or somebody would give us the word to go."

In another incident, Lance Cpl. Douglas Atwood of Louisville, Ky., was stoned by some Cuban sentries Sunday night.

Adm. O'Donnell said the only Marine casualties were two men seriously wounded about Nov. 3 by "explosive ordinance." The Marines were reported to have wandered into a mine field, but the admiral gave no details.

Guantanamo's heavily armed alert will stay in force, he said, "so long as the situation is as it is."

This Method Didn't Work

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—An auto mobile agency decided to use a large, helium-filled balloon in its advertising program.

Manager J. D. Wright was sending up the 70-foot balloon Monday when the wind suddenly freshened. He called for help and a salesman ran out.

The balloon ragged the two men across the car lot. Finally a sharp wind gust snapped the heavy cord and the $280 balloon sailed out of sight.

Firm Burglarized

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Police said the West-Ark International Harvester Co., on Highway 7 between Russellville and Dardanelle was burglarized during the weekend. The thieves got about $1,200, officers said. The burglary was discovered Monday morning.

Should Check That Old Laundry Bag

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—In June 1959 Roy Davis lost his wallet with $108 cash and $33 in checks at his cleaning shop here. His son found the wallet this week in a pile of old laundry bags. The money and checks were in it.

Adenauer Will Arrive for Talks

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany arrives tonight for talks with President Kennedy on the future of Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will greet the 86-year-old German leader at Andrews Air Force Base and will ride with him to Blair House, the President's guest house.

President Kennedy will officially greet his guest Wednesday morning on the lawn of the White House, where the chancellor will receive military honors. The two will then begin the first session of their two-day conference.

Several ideas have circulated on what the West should propose to the Soviet Union regarding Berlin, provided there is an agreement in principle among the four Western powers directly interested in the fate of the Communist-encircled city.

These ideas range from the suggestion to propose a conference on the German question in general to less ambitious ones that deal only with access rights to the city or with maintaining Berlin's status quo.

Advocates of a general German discussion argue that now, after the Soviet backdown on the removal of missiles from Cuba, the West is in a more favorable position than it has been in since 1958—when Soviet Premier Khrushchev first asked the West to give up Berlin.

Among these advocates are specialists who believe the West should insist that any Berlin settlement must include the city as a whole—not only its Western part, as the Soviets proposed.

Others who prefer a step by step approach say that the Kremlin might now be willing to consider international control of Berlin's access routes, with both East and West Germany playing some clearly defined minor role.

This idea earlier was rejected by Moscow. It took a personal explanation by Rusk to Adenauer last summer to persuade the chancellor that setting up of such a control body would not represent recognition of the Communist East German regime.

Old Plane Lands

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—A Ford tri-motor airplane bound for the Smithsonian Institute landed briefly at Walnut Ridge Monday on the first leg of a flight from Tulsa, Okla., to Washington. The plane will be used in ceremonies dedicating Dulle International Airport, Nov. 17, at Washington before going to the museum.

45,000 Are Homeless in Typhoon Wake

HONOLULU (AP)—Shattering Typhoon Karen left at least five natives dead on Guam, damages in the hundreds of millions of dollars and 45,000 persons homeless.

Acting Gov. Manuel Guerrero described the destruction as "much more serious than that of 1944" when U.S. troops liberated the island from Japan.

Hundreds were reported injured but no exact count has come from the western Pacific island, still out of communications except for a few emergency circuits. Hospitals and medical centers handled a steady stream of casualties, sparse reports said.

The typhoon crashed across the tiny island hub of U.S. military defenses in the western Pacific late Sunday night and Monday morning with winds reaching 174 miles an hour.

As Guam dug out of the blit, Karen rumbled across the Pacific toward Okinawa and important American military bases there.

The U.S. Air Force's 54th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron located the typhoon 657 miles west-northwest of Guam at 9 a. m. JST., Tuesday—7 p. m. Monday EST. Winds in the eye were gauged at a potent 167 miles an hour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu said the typhoon could brush the northern Philippine Islands within the next 24 to 48 hours.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency in Tokyo said one Japanese fishing boat—the 39-ton Dai-ski Juke has been unheard from since Monday midnight. The boat, with 15 aboard, was operating northwest of Guam when the storm hit.

Had Guam not had a three-day warning that the monstrous tropical blow—the worst in the island's history—was coming, countless numbers would have died, the Navy has said.

More than half the 40,000 natives and 30,000 military personnel and dependents were left homeless. All civilian communications facilities were knocked out, schools were destroyed and 90 percent of all civilian buildings on the island were damaged beyond repair, Guerrero's report said.

There was no word on the extent Continued on Page Two

Baptist Choir Plans Concert

The youth choir of the First Baptist Church will present a pop concert on Wednesday evening, Nov. 14 at 7:30 in the fellowship hall. The theme of the program is falling leaves and will include such choral favorites as "The Autumn Leaves," "I Believe," "You'll Never Walk Alone." Also on the program are a girls' quartet and boys' quartet presenting other popular selections. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The jury quickly returned four indictments on other matters and then apparently began work on cases involving the desegregation of Ole Miss and the deaths of Paul Guillard, 30, a French newsman; and Ray Gunter, 23, an Oxford repairman.

In charging the grand jury, O'Barr read from a 2½-page statement which he said he had given much thought. He ordered the jury to refuse evidence gathered by what he called unlawful Army searches and said the Kennedy administration is heading toward a "totalitarian dictatorship."

Two accidents were investigated by City Police yesterday, with only property damage resulting to both.

At 10:20 a. m. between the Compress and Frisco crossing a car driven by W. A. Neal and a gas-driven truck driven by Dean Hamilton, collided with heavy damage to the car and fender and bumper damage to the truck.

City Officers Shirley and Rowe said Neal was driving on the wrong side of the road.

In the 1500 block of East Third at 12:30 p. m. a small car driven by Clarence C. Bass of Longview, Texas and a Hope Auto Co. car driven by Jack Arnett collided. The local car had considerable damage to hood, fender and grill. The left side of the small car was damaged.

City Officers Rowe and Shirley charged Bass with failure to give a hand signal.

Likely More Will Take Polio Shots

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A recent outbreak of polio in Washington County may cause increased participation in the Pulaski County Medical Society's Sabin oral vaccine clinics in January, a Little Rock physician said Monday.

Dr. Jerome Levy, chairman of the society's polio committee, said nearly 80 per cent of the residents of Washington County received Sabin Type I oral vaccine in an immunization program set up after 10 cases of the disease were reported in a two-week period.

The committee had set a clinic in Pulaski County in September and urged that other societies in the state join in a simultaneous effort. Then an international controversy rose over the safety of Type III of the Sabin vaccine and the clinics were postponed.

Levy said because of the outbreak in Washington County his committee has now placed its immunization program on a standby basis.

As a result, the state Teacher Retirement System be kept financially sound.

Amendment 53 joined five other ballot proposals in defeat. Only the voting machine amendment survived a wave of negative votes last Tuesday.

Other defeated constitutional proposals would have liberalized taxing powers of cities, guaranteed that no child be denied a public education for refusing to attend an integrated school and permitted raising salaries of state and county officials.

An initiated act to allocate 50 per cent of general revenues to public schools and a referred act to create a motor vehicle commission also were defeated.

Amendment 54 Adopted But 53 Defeated

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Complete but unofficial returns from last Tuesday's general election showed today that Amendment 54 was adopted and Amendment 53 was defeated.

Final totals affirmed the fate of the two proposals as indicated by incomplete returns on election night.

The unofficial totals, compiled by The Associated Press today, showed:

Amendment 53, For 135,220; Against 137,377.

Amendment 54, For 134,622; Against 131,586.

Amendment 54 authorizes use of voting machines under conditions to be set by the legislature. Lawmakers are expected to require a popular vote favoring machines in each county where they are to demand at a conference in Washington Monday with Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations; Stevenson's Security Council deputy, Charles W. Yost, and John J. McCloy, special adviser on the Cuban crisis.

Stevenson and his team were expected to brief Acting Secretary-General U. Thant on their talks with the President and to schedule a new round of negotiations.

U.S. informants said Stevenson and his aides gave Kennedy a full report on two marathon sessions they had with the Russians last week in which Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov reportedly balked at removing the missiles.

The informants said Kennedy made plain he considers the bombers offensive weapons to be removed under Premier Khrushchev's pledge in return for a U.S. guarantee not to invade Cuba.

Expectations mounted at U.N. headquarters, however, that the United States might quietly drop its demand for inspection in Cuba to make sure the Russians have dismantled the missile bases they built on the island and have shipped out the missiles.

Until a few days ago the Pentagon, the State Department and U.S. negotiators at the United Nations kept up a drumfire of demands for on-site inspection by the United Nations or some other international agency. But delegates noted that U.S. officials at the United Nations now talk of adequate verification, which could mean aerial or at-sea inspection.

U.S. efforts to get on-site verification in accordance with Khrushchev's proposal have been blocked by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's refusal of such checks by the United Nations or any other foreign agency. Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan apparently has not changed the Cuban leader's position although Mikoyan's visit to Havana now has stretched into its 11th day.

The necessity of on-site inspection was believed lessened by a U.S. Navy report that checks at sea showed 42 missiles headed back to the Soviet Union aboard Soviet ships.

U.S. authorities believe the missile menace from Cuba has been virtually eliminated, but they stress that the two dozen or more Soviet IL-28 bombers still in Cuba can carry nuclear bombs.

Both Soviet and Cuban officials have said the bombers were turned over to Castro and are under his control. The United States is expected to continue its naval blockade of Cuba until the bombers are removed.

A Havana television commentator said Monday night that U.S. determination to get the jet bombers out of Cuba "is nothing more than a pretext to hold up the negotiations."

The United States and the Soviet Union are said to have reached tentative agreement for Red Cross inspection of Cuban-bound ships to make sure the Soviets do not bring back any of offensive weapons.

First official word of the devastation wrought by Karen came from Guerrero's headquarters to Honolulu via civil defense emergency facilities.

Edwin Engledow, Guerrero's press secretary, said damages were "well into the hundreds of millions of dollars."

The exact number of injured was not mentioned either in Engledow's message or a later Navy announcement, which placed deaths at five. Engledow said six were dead.

Engledow quoted Guerrero as saying, "The storm has completely wiped out the works and investment of 17 years. The present situation is much more serious than that of 1944 when U.S. troops bombarded the island to liberate it from the Japanese."

President Kennedy declared the island — under U. S. jurisdiction since 1898 — a disaster area, making it eligible for federal loans to rebuild.

Quachita Recount
CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — The Quachita County Election Commission has ordered a recount of the ballots cast in the countywide local option election last Tuesday.

The action was requested by the Quachita Legal Control Committee, a group for legal sale of liquor in the county. The county voted by a vote of 4,604 to 4,330. The legal control group will apply for the recount.

Dividend Declared
DARDANELLE, Ark. (AP) — A two per cent stock dividend has been declared by the board of directors of Arkansas Valley Industries, Inc. Harold Snyder, president, said Monday. The dividend will be paid Dec. 5 to stockholders of record at the close of business Nov. 15, he said. AVI is a poultry growing and processing company.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Space exploration increased its pace rapidly in 1959. Russia led off on Jan. 2 with a 770-pound probe that bypassed the moon to become the first man-made planet. In March, the U.S. Pioneer IV joined it in endless orbit around the sun. The first Discoverer satellites were launched into polar orbit from Vandenberg AFB, Calif. In April, selection of seven candidates for the Mercury man-in-space program was announced. They went into strenuous training, looking toward a possible flight in 1961.

Madame scowled at Columbine. "Listen, chick," she rumbled, "nobody was ever hurt by being in the papers or by havin' fun poked at 'em. Me, I'm labeled the dumbest, most eccentric, vulgar old gal in America. And what's the result? I got more admirin' friends and acquaintances than you can crowd onto an 80-acre farm."

Columbine's eyes were not laughing, nor was her expression humorous as she asked, "Does that include Peter Martinus or Artemus Thumble?"

"Meaning what by that?" Madame asked, suddenly attentive, her small, sharp eyes fixed upon the girl piercingly.

Columbine told her how she and Barbara Green had followed the pair out into the desert and had watched them climb to the ruined house an enter it.

Madame Thistlebun was not now a fatuous fat woman with more money than brains. She was concise and efficient. "Telephone my chauffeur to come around," she said peremptorily.

In five minutes Madame's big car was at the front door and the two women seated themselves on its deep cushions.

"Giddap," Madame said to her driver, and then to Columbine, "You never met my shoffer, did you, chickadee? Name's Pea-Eye Perkins. Used to tote a typewriter for the Purple Gang in Detroit. After he done his stretch, the last of my husbands' the oil one—took a shine to him. And I kept him on . . . Got a gat handy, Pea-Eye?"

Pea-Eye shrugged. Columbine gave directions, and presently they turned off on the desert road which wound back to the foothill upon which perched the ruins that she and Barbara Green had seen earlier.

Pea-Eye, having been brought up to take the proper precautions, braked the car to a stop behind a clump of mesquites.

"You broads set," Pea-Eye said elegantly. "I'll ease the joint."

Muscle-bound and clumsy as he seemed, he moved with quiet skill, keeping under cover. Presently he disappeared inside the ruin. A few minutes later, he emerged and scrambled back to the car.

"Me," he said, "no like."

Nevertheless, urged by Madame, he drove to the top of the hill and parked in what once had been a driveway.

"Look," he said uneasily. "I'm lookout, see? Inside I don't go again. It ain't canny in there."

"Cross your fingers then, snapped Madame. Squeezing through the door of the car, he picked up a stout stick, took, a firm grasp on it, and waddled toward what once had been the front door. They entered what must have been a stately living room, but which was now open to the sky, and passed through it into another apartment, whose roof was intact. Once this had been a study or library.

At the farther end was an altar draped in black. Above the altar on the wall was a crucifix upside down. On the ebon altar cloth that covered the front was skillfully painted a circle inside of which were four smaller circles, and inside the smallest a six-pointed star made up of two triangles.

Though neither of the women Madame gasped and fluttered. Magic Circle of Agrippa, powerful in black magic. And, alive and clucking in protest, made fast by one leg was the black hen, a hen that never had laid an egg.

Madame gasped and fluttered. "Let's scam out of here!" she gasped.

"Wait," whispered Columbine. "The professor may be touched in the head, but Martinus isn't. If—if he goes along with this black-magic rigamarole, he has a reason."

She stood peering about the bare room. Nowhere was a hiding place except where the impious altar stood. Underneath was a cabinet fitted with drawers. It took courage to open the top drawer. Inside it, she looked down upon a familiar leather case, which she knew contained a set of burglar's tools. Also concealed

Horner E. Capchert, R-Ind.

For Capchert, defeated in last Tuesday's election, it was something of a consolation journey.

A delegation of House members to the Paris meeting was headed by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio. Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., had designated Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., and Robert R. Barry, R-N.Y., as the other official House delegates.

West Berlin already has been visited by a group of three senators and a former member who embarked earlier on what was labeled as a fact-finding tour for President Kennedy.

Transported in a White House jet, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana led the quartet which expected to complete a circuit of the world before Christmas.

Sens. Clairborne Pell, D-R.I., and J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., signed up for this tour. Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., went along, although he had been replaced on the payroll at midnight last Tuesday when Edward M. Kennedy, the President's brother, was elected as his successor.

There was a well-remembered chamois bag. She lifted it in her hand, unlocked the string and saw that it still contained a fortune in gems.

Before she could open the other drawers, Pea-Eye called urgently from the door, "Hey, you dames! A car just turned in from the main road!"

Columbine acted with decision and adroitness. She left the kit of burglar's tools as they lay but she quickly dumped the contents of the chamois bag into her purse. She darted into the littered room beyond and scraped up a handful of pebbles an little cement fragments an substituted them for the jewels. She made sure the altar showed no signs of having been disturbed, and then hastened after Madame Thistlebun to the waiting car.

In seasons when they are not harvesting, farmers in Norway and Sweden tie sheaves of grain on high poles to feed migratory birds — strictly a humane custom.

Says U.S. Must Risk Everything

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says that unless Americans are willing to risk everything—even nuclear war—"we cannot hope, to save anything from disaster."

"We must be resolute enough to commit ourselves to the ultimate test, if our adversaries put us to that test," he declared Sunday in Veterans Day ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery where he placed the presidential wreath on the Tomb of the Unknowns.

McNamara quoted President Kennedy's words at the ceremony last year—"that there is no way to maintain the frontiers of freedom without cost and commitment and risk"—and he added in reference to the Cuban crisis: "The hard truth of his remarks has been demonstrated for all of us by the events of the last few weeks."

"The men and women, living and dead, whom we honor here today learned that truth through their own experience," said the defense secretary.

Smoke-Cancer Link To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government advisory committee has started an extensive study aimed at finding whether smoking is a cause of lung cancer.

The Public Health Service said Sunday the surgeon general's advisory committee on smoking and health was starting a broad review of "scientific literature."

and basic studies on all aspects of the use of tobacco and smoking habits, as well as possible contributing factors such as air pollution, industrial exposure, radiation and alcohol."

The recently appointed 10-member committee expects to take about six to eight months to complete its report.

City Seeks Funds

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

The Russellville City Council has voted to ask the federal government for some $700,000 in matching funds to help pay for a diversion of the city's sewer system. The diversion was made necessary by the Dardanelle Dam Reservoir. The council passed three resolutions asking for grants on the multiphased project, which will include transmission lines and treatment facilities.

Tonight 40-45. High Wednesday 68-75.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sunny skies and warm temperatures prevailed over Arkansas Tuesday and warm weather is expected to continue throughout most of the state through Wednesday.

But the Weather Bureau at Little Rock said rather cold nights could be expected.

Tuesday's low temperatures were examples of this prediction. Nine cities in the state reported freezing or sub-freezing temperatures.

The coldest spot in the state was Gilbert, which recorded a low of 23 degrees. Mountain Home reported a 27-degree reading. Beaver and Fayetteville recorded 28-degree readings.

Walnut Ridge, Fort Smith, El Dorado and Little Rock all reported low temperatures at the 32-degree mark.

Holding the warm temperatures to the low 60s and 70s Monday was a blustery wind which swept across the state. The winds subsided Monday night.

The forecast today calls for fair skies and warmer temperatures through Wednesday. Cloudiness will increase in the western portion of the state Wednesday but weather will remain pleasant.

Scattered showers are expected for the western section Thursday. Scattered ground fog in some eastern areas Monday night blocked a frost threat and resulted in heavy dew.

Arkansas—Fair and a little warmer today and tonight; increasing cloudiness and mild Wednesday; high today 65-72; low tonight 36-46.

Northwest Missouri—Fair today and tonight; warmer today; partly cloudy and mild Wednesday; high today 65-70; low tonight 35-40.

Eastern and Southern Missouri—Fair and warmer today with a high of 60-68; low tonight 34-40; fair and not so cool tonight; Wednesday increasing cloudiness with little change in temperature.

CHATTER

By BILL RALEY

A recent article tells us why we dress the way we do. Written by a psychiatrist and a woman at that, she explains that the "outside" of people tells as much or more about them than the "inside."

From Alexandra Symonds, M. D., we quote: "If you are like most women, you have some clothes in your closet which you never wear, even though they are perfectly good. That's because some clothes fit your inner picture of yourself, while others don't. You wear that which satisfies your true feeling about yourself, whether you consciously know it or not."

There is much more to this delightful article; you can decide whether you are the little-girl type, the premature matron, the dramatic, the mouse or the fashion plate. But the sum and substance is, do your best to know your type, buy things you will want to wear and stick pretty much to it. You will then feel comfortable.

Now, we at Raley's Style Shoppe have spent many years in the fashion business. It has been a real pleasure and privilege to bring to our community, styles for all types. Naturally, we would like nothing better than to have you see them today!

To wear under your winter coat, a pale shaft of color in the little easy-going dress made up of good, uncomplicated lines. Done in a soft blend of wool and nylon, comes in pale blue, beige and willow green designed in petite and misses sizes by Jeanne Durrell.

If you would like to sparkle at the next party, choose one of the many styles of Parkland's holiday fashions, in silk organza, chiffon, brocade and lace. In all the gorgeous Christmas colors—Holly green, Poinsettia red, Honey beige, Orbit blue, white and black at only $19.95. Or maybe you would prefer the sheath dress in gold and white jersey... priced under $25.00.

There are so many things to show you and as usual space is running out. Why not see for yourself. You will be sure to find your type at Raley's Style Shoppe, 523 West Third Street.

meet at 2:30 with L. F. Slatton, Sup't. of Elementary grade schools as guest speaker. His topic will be "Relations between parents and schools." All members are urged to attend.

Brookwood P.T.A. will meet Wednesday, Nov. 14 in the school auditorium. The Executive Board will meet at 2:30 with the regular meeting at 3:00. Jimmy Jones will be principal speaker. A good attendance is urged.

The Garland P.T.A. will meet Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 3 p. m. in the School auditorium. The guest speaker will be Earl Downs. The second grade rhythm band will present special music. The executive committee will meet at 2:30.

Thursday, Nov. 15
The Junior Senior High P.T.A. will meet Thursday Nov. 15 in the Junior High Auditorium at 7:30. Franklin McLarty will have charge of the program.

The Hope Chapter 328 Order of Eastern Star will meet Thursday night at 7:30 in the Masonic Temple. All members are urged to attend.

Saturday, Nov. 17
The Alpha Delta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma will meet in the home of Mrs. W. A. Williams Saturday, Nov. 17 at 10:30 a. m. Following a business meeting the group will join the Upsilon Chapter of Prescott in Arkia Village for a 12:00 luncheon at the Chuck Wagon. Mrs. Elizabeth Buck, state president will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Susan Ellis Observes 89th Birthday
Mrs. Susan Ellis, of Emmet, Ark. observed her 89th birthday at her home on Oct. 27. A birthday dinner was given in her honor by her children relatives and friends. She received many gifts and congratulations from the 60 who attended during the day.

Miss Foster Completes Wedding Plans
Miss Cynthia Ann Foster, daughter of Mrs. Taylor Foster of Hope and Richard Ross Foster, Jr. of Pampa, Tex., has completed plans for her wedding to James Blake Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Joseph Owen of Hope, on November 22 in St. Mark's Episcopal Church of Hope.

The Rev. W. A. Reiman, rector of St. Mark's will officiate at the double-ring ceremony, and the bride's brother, Richard Ross Foster, III of Los Angeles, Calif., will give her in marriage.

Misses Pamela Aslin and Dorothy Smith will light the candles, and the music will be furnished by David Pearson, vocal soloist, and Luther Holhamon, organist.

This bride-elect has chosen her sister, Miss Susan Foster, to be her maid of honor, Miss Judy Owen, sister of the groom-elect will be the bridesmaid.

For his best man, the groom has selected his father, and George McGill of Fulton will be the groomsmen. Ushers are to be John and Pat Foster of Dallas, Tex., cousins of the bride-elect, James McLarty, III, and Vonnal Edwards.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Young will entertain with a reception at the Hope Country Club.

Victory MD Club Holds Meeting
The Victory Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Orville Hoelscher on November 7 with 11 members, one new member, Mrs. James Ellis, and one guest, Mrs. S. Joseph Gemo, attending.

The president, Mrs. C. J. Rowe, called the meeting to order, after which group singing was led by Mrs. Robert Cash with Mrs. Gemo at the piano. Mrs. Jack Sumpter gave as the Eye Opener, "How to Make Christmas Decorations for Door Knobs."

Two special musical numbers were played on saxophones by Mrs. Hoelscher and Mrs. Gemo. To answer the roll call, each member told "What Makes a Dress Look Home-made to Me."

It was decided that all existing officers would continue their duties another year with the exception of the position of reporter. Mrs. J. T. Thompson will be the new publicity chairman. Mrs. Cecil Smith gave a Leader's Report.

Mrs. Dexter Alford presented a most interesting program, "How to Finish Pockets Neatly and Bind Buttonholes." A Special Event of the meeting was a birthday shower for two members, Mrs. Dexter Alford and Mrs. Robert Cash. Mrs. Bill Blake won the Thrift Garment in a drawing for it.

During a social hour, Mrs. Jack Sumpter conducted several games and the prize winner was Mrs. James Ellis. A Thanksgiving motif was used in the decorations on the serving plates. Assorted tidbits, decorated cake squares, tea, and coffee were enjoyed. The meeting on December 5 will be with Mrs. L. J. Hampton.

Repossessed Auto Back to Owner

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An automobile repossessed from a hospital parking lot last June was given back to its owner last week.

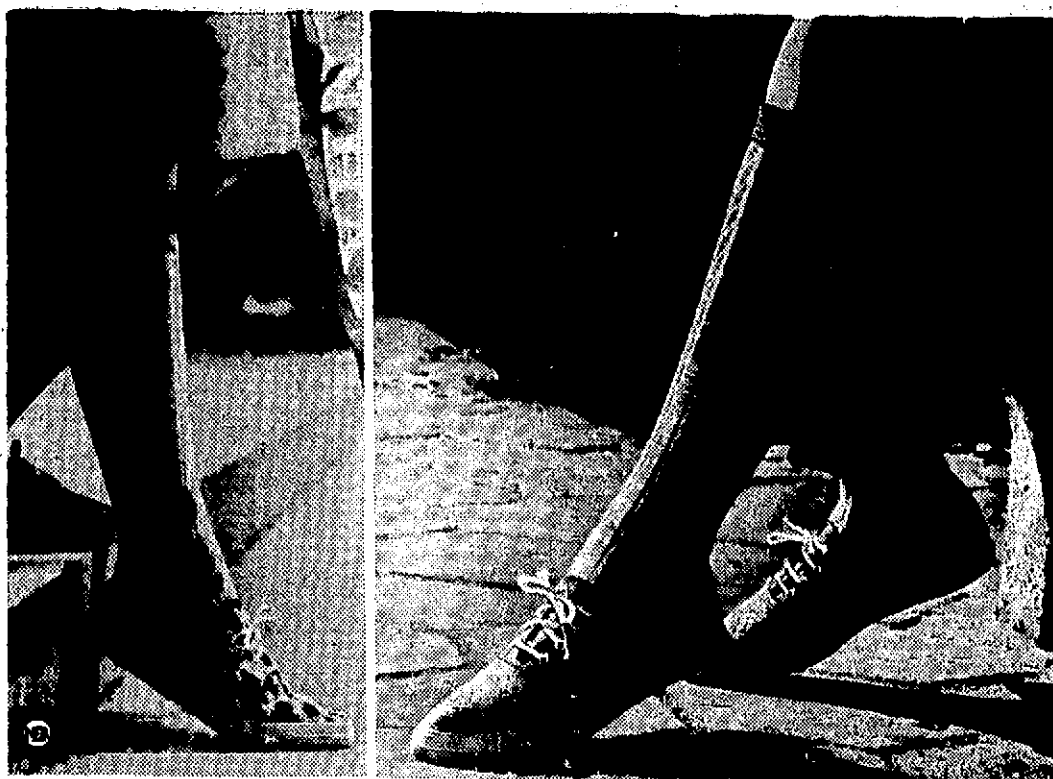

David L. Magruder, 38, news editor of the Statesman-Examiner at Colville, Wash., fell behind on his payments while a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital at North Little Rock. When he was released June 20, he found his car had been repossessed by the Greenville, Calif., bank that financed it.

Theft charges were filed against the two men who handled the repossession and U. S. Atty James W. Gallman directed the bank to return the 1960 automobile. Gallman said the pair took the auto from the hospital grounds themselves instead of filing suit and having the sheriff take possession of it.

The bank turned the car to U.S. Marshal Pat Henderson July 2. Henderson kept it in storage along with 19 boxes of Magruder's personal belongings which were in the car when it was repossessed.

Judge Gordon E. Loung let Magruder have his things back provided he would produce them as evidence when the theft case comes up.

Magruder was a roving freelance writer and newspaperman when he entered the hospital in North Little Rock.

DOROTHY DIX

UN Has Nothing on This Pairs Parley

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: You frequently advise the long suffering wives of girl-chasers to talk things over with their wandering husbands and, if they get nowhere, divorce them.

Every time my husband and I try to talk over our problem we wind up as befuddled as a United Nations Assembly with both sides yakky-yakking at once. He still dreams of his lost love — one who was no better than she should be. Sight of any young gal who resembles her sends him into a trance.

What's wrong with "little boys" like him? Mine thought he could pull his gal out of the gutter. I tell him her sort wouldn't be doing what she does unless she liked the life. For my part, I'd rather scrub floors.

Try as I will, I can't convince him that such a girl isn't worth saving. He's so naive. If she'd been a decent sort, really in love with him, I might have understood — but a strumpet! God help him — and our six children — if I died and he married her. He's 40, she 25. Our eldest child is 19.

How can I pull my man out of his trance? — One Who Knows Trouble.

Dear One: Reverse your thinking. Maybe the girl is worth saving. If you want to keep your husband, turn around and help him pull her up from the gutter. The very magnanimity of your action will shock him out of his trance. Condemnation only sends him into her arms. When "little boys" fall for girls such as she, it's usually because they seek the affection, understanding and glamor they fail to find at home. Look the girl up. Help her to help herself by obtaining honest work for her in another town.

It's an old cliché to say that prostitutes like the life they lead. From my experience in covering stories at the Women's Court in New York, I would say they are trapped by it. Who knows, motivated by the proper spirit, you and your husband might, by working together, salvage the lives of many a Mary Magdalene.

William Gladstone, four times Prime Minister of England during Victoria's reign, believed that prostitutes were the victims of their environment. He and his wife held out helping hands to literally hundreds of London's "birds of the night" with heartening success.

Dear Helen: I've been engaged almost three years and am still not married. Whenever I raise the question my fiancé comes up with a half dozen perfectly good reasons why we should wait. First, the job he had here didn't pay well enough. Then he quit it for a better one in the West, which meant he'd have to establish roots, save money and plan before I could join him. I was willing but his mom talked him into coming back home.

He found another job here. That was early last summer. We could have married then he said (wait till August). So yesterday he suggested we wait till Christmas. I've played hard to get and everything else but it just won't work. He swears I'm the only girl for him but doesn't want to rush things. Would you call three years of dilly-dallying rushing things? I love him but feel frustrated by the sameness of it all. Any suggestions? — In-a-Rut

Dear In-a-Rut: Long engagements are likely to be fatal. Unless your fiancé is more definite about naming the wedding day, call it off. Prolong this marathon and you will wind up an old maid!

3,952 Take Shots at Fayetteville

FALETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Dr. Rodney C. Baker, chairman of the Washington County Medical Society, said 3,952 persons took doses of Type I Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine in makeup clinics Sunday for persons who did not take the vaccine offered Nov. 4.

Approximately 80 per cent of the 55,000 residents of Washington County have taken the vaccine, Baker said.

On Nov. 4 over 37,000 people took the vaccine and Baker said Sunday 41,500 recorded vaccinations had been given.

About 93 per cent of the residents of Fayetteville and 86 per cent of the residents of Springdale have taken the vaccine, Baker said. Springdale and Fayetteville are the two largest cities in the county.

Baker, praising the immunization campaign, said 5,000 dozen of the vaccine were unclaimed and had to be destroyed. He said the vaccine is good for seven days after Nixon's defeat in the California gubernatorial election last Tuesday.

After his unsuccessful attempt to unseat Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Nixon issued a statement the next day indicating he was retiring from politics.

Hiss said on Smith's program that Nixon was a congressional investigator who was "less interested in developing the facts objectively than in seeking ways of making a pre-conceived plan appear plausible."

Hiss said he didn't know if Nixon was "politically motivated." But, he added, "I certainly don't think that he was unaware of the political boost, the political soaring up into outer space that the hearings on the subsequent trial provided for him."

"If it hadn't been Mr. Nixon," Hiss went on, "perhaps someone else would have tried to jump into the same situation and benefit by it."

Hiss denied he held "any feelings of hostility" toward Nixon, but made clear that "I don't have any feelings of great personal warmth or affection."

The Taft Broadcasting Co. said it ordered the show off its two stations where it had been scheduled, in Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio.

Waller H. Annenberg, editor-publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer and president of Triangle Publications, ordered the program off two Triangle stations in Philadelphia and New Haven, Conn.

Nixon, as a U.S. representative from California, started a 1948 congressional investigation of Hiss, then a high official in the State Department. The probe centered about charges by the late Militator Chambers that Hiss had been a member of a Communist underground cell.

Hiss later was convicted of perjury for denying he passed information to the Russians. Now out of prison, he is a New York City printing salesman.

ABC commentator Howard K. Smith taped the television program a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet "The Shy Beaux."

Glenwood Man Still Critical

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Loyd Driggers, 41, remained in critical condition today at a Hot Springs hospital where he is suffering from a bullet wound in the head.

Pike County Sheriff Freeland Stuart said Driggers wounded himself Saturday after Charles M. Overman, 55, was shot and killed. Stuart said Overman, plant superintendent at the Indianapolis Glove Co., plant at Glenwood, was shot three times in the chest with a .25-caliber automatic pistol. Driggers was a cutting foreman for the firm.

Coroner Jeff Riley ruled the shooting murder and attempted suicide, but no charges have been filed.

Charged With Murder

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Clyde Barker said Monday Willie Lee Franklin, 72, of Proctor, has been charged with first degree murder in the death of her 75-year-old common-law husband Saturday. Barker said John Pettiford was shot in the heart with a .22 caliber pistol following an argument at the couple's farm home in Crittenden County. A hearing in the case was continued until Friday in West Memphis Municipal Court Monday.

after origin and Sunday was the seventh day.

Clinics were held at Fayetteville, Springdale, Elkins, Lincoln, Prairie Grove, West Fork and Greenland in Washington County and at Huntsville in Madison County.

The immunization program was initiated after an outbreak of polio left a nine-year-old boy dead and hospitalized nine other persons.

$1 Million in Pearls Missing

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) - Pearls valued at a million dollars vanished Sunday from the hotel room of a Tokyo exporter, who left them unguarded in a suitcase. A house detective discovered someone had pried open the room door while the owner Hikoyu Sakata, 38, was at a club with friends.

Sakata, a partner with his four brothers in the Japanese firm of Sakata Pearl Co., Ltd., has been exhibiting the collection of 60,000 natural and cultured pearls in the United States since July.

Asked why he left the pearls in his ninth-floor room instead of using the Hotel Texas safe, he replied: "That was my big mistake."

Sakata said he changed rooms each night as a precaution against theft. He placed the wholesale value of the pearls at $71 million. A spokesman for his firm in Tokyo said pearls in the display from Japan were insured but the

Housing Is Booming in Some Cities

By WICK TEMPLE Associated Press Staff Writer

The Cuban crisis brought the home building industry in Arkansas back to a normal pace last month after a building boom through the summer months.

Houses and apartment houses were going up at a fast clip in the major cities, especially Fort Smith, Texarkana and Little Rock, the Arkansas Home Builders Association reports.

But builders say the usual home-buying slump when school starts, plus the international situation, has brought business back to normal.

The F. W. Dodge Corporation, which reports building and construction news, said contracts for residential units in Arkansas during the first six months of this year totaled $52,381,000, an increase of 47 per cent from last year.

Home builders, many of whom asked not to be quoted, said the increase was due to a number of things: subdivision expansion, the move toward suburbia, a good general business climate and improvements in new homes through research and development.

Fred Hunt, an independent Little Rock builder and new president of the Home Builders Association, said he is still constructing homes for which he contracted during the boom, but building has dropped off.

"We're not pessimistic," he said, and added that he expects another increase in home-buying, especially in the peak period of March to June in 1963.

Hunt said he looks for a static price situation, but added, "people are getting more of their dollar than they did two or three years ago because of better quality and research on materials."

He cited the work of the National Home Builders Association, which maintains a full-time research and development department in Rockville, Md.

"My homes are better than ever because of research, and I think they'll continue to improve," he said.

Mrs. The Varner, executive secretary of the Arkansas Home Builders Association, said a large number of apartment buildings are responsible for a Commerce Department figure which shows Arkansas had the 10th largest building increase in the nation in the first quarter of the year.

The department listed construction of 1,093 units, up 37.8 per cent in units and up 15.1 per cent in expenditure, $10,749,000 compared with $7,944,000 last year.

A national magazine survey shows Little Rock had the nation's second largest gain in home building 153.1 per cent in April through July. It was surpassed only by Boise, Ida., which had a 161.8 per cent gain.

status of others possibly borrowed from U.S. dealers was uncertain. A major item in the collection was what Sakata called the world's largest pearl, valued at more than $610,000.

Arkansas produces more than one fifth of the nation's rice crop. Between a third and half of the people of Arkansas depend on farming for most of their income.

Thinks New Church Day Is Dawning

VATICAN CITY (AP) - The man with the cane and Oxford accent is convinced that a new church day is dawning for the English language.

Col. John K. Ross-Duggan has spent 20 years trying to hasten that day—when English is used in the regular worship of the Roman Catholic Church, wherever that language is spoken by the people.

"I'm hopeful, indeed, that the time is near," he said.

An urbane Catholic layman of courtly mien and ample girth, the 75-year-old Col. Ross-Duggan came here to follow action of the Vatican Ecumenical Council on proposals for substituting national tongues for Latin in the Mass.

It's a cause he has been pushing for more than two decades, as a founder and lay leader in the Vernacular Society in the United States.

The change, he said in an interview, would "result in a great increase in holiness" among worshippers.

"Our faith would be enabled to carry out the urgings of the Holy Father and his predecessors that we participate more actively in the Mass," he said.

Col. Ross-Duggan of Long Beach, Calif., who acquired his military rank as a British army officer in World War I and who still retains a British inflection, said there is always opposition to change.

"I feel that many bishops are committed to the holy need for use of the national languages."

He said the change would not mean discarding Latin, as the official language of the church in its documents and communications, nor even in the most solemn parts of the Mass—during the consecration, for example.

He said he favored use of the vernacular only for the first, instructional part of the Mass, with its prayers and scripture readings—"The Mass of the catechumens."

"This would leave the central part of the Mass, the 'Canon,' in Latin."

Miners Have New Bushy Eyed Leader

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) - Coal miners have come up with another bushy-browed labor union chief to worry the mine owners.

W. A. (Tony) Boyle is touring the coal fields and rousing the miners for something. The operators suspect it may be them. Four years have gone by since John L. Lewis, now officially retired, got the miners their last pay raise.

Boyle is 58. He has a fine set of red eyebrows and a folksy sort of speech. He can't compare, of course, in either department with his mentor, labor's oldtime blood and thunder expert, Lewis, now 82.

Lewis is still around, still active as president emeritus of the United Mine Workers Union, practically prodding Boyle along. Actually Boyle is the UMW's No. 2 man as vice president. But he's operating like No. 1 since President Tom Kennedy, at 75, has been ailing for some time.

Coal labor relations, at least with the major industry producers, have been serenely peaceful since the last industrywide strike in 1950.

There have been constant troubles with small mine operators, particularly in eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee, who have balked at paying the 40-cent a ton welfare royalty in the face of slack demand and declining prices. The UMW welfare fund, in turn, has had to reduce pensions and take steps to dispose of a chain of mine area hospitals.

Among other UMW troubles are the fact that non-union coal production has risen from 20 to 27 per cent of the total and that union membership has continued to dwindle until it now is only 160,000.

Although nominally in retirement, Lewis is reported still the man in charge of the UMW while putting Boyle forward as the man he wants the industry to deal with.

Thus, when coal operators received a hot missive from Boyle, carrying an underline saying the contents were attested to by Lewis, the industry sat up and took notice.

Boyle said in about as many words that if the coal operators went ahead with plans to put self-powered equipment in coal mines they would have a strike on their hands.

It is clear the UMW is adamant because diesels run on that hated competitive fuel, oil, where as electricity is primarily produced from coal.

Like Lewis, Boyle is not exacting enmeshed by politicians as fervor.

Mayan stone carving of an old man is between 800 and 1,000 years old. Yet, statesman Benjamin Franklin never had ancestors in Mexico. Or did he?

STRANGE COINCIDENCES—While on a trip to Mexico, the artistic eye of traveler John Lavine, of Superior, Wis., spotted something striking in some ancient Mayan sculpture. Photos which he brought back to the United States were compared with more recent art—proving that there is nothing new under the sun, even in Old Mexico.

Alliance for Progress Is Lagging

By WATSON S. SIMS (News Editor, AP World Service)

BIGOTA, Colombia (AP) - President Guillermo Leon Valencia expressed deep concern today about lack of progress in President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress program.

"Hungry people are expectant and waiting," he said. "It would be very dangerous to keep them waiting too long."

Government statistics give a gloomy picture of the plight of Colombia's 15 millions:

Most are underfed. Per capita income is $183 a year; in the United States it is more than $2,200.

40 per cent can't read or write. Nearly 700,000 children do not attend school because of a lack of facilities.

The nation needs 280,000 housing units for improved living conditions.

"When I visited the United States last spring, I was told Colombia would be a showcase for Alliance for Progress," Valencia told an interviewer. "The showcase is ready and waiting but there is very little to put into it."

The program is a good one, the president said.

"It could transform Latin America in a magnificent way, to the advantage of the United States and all countries concerned," he added. "But the Alliance for Progress must make more progress if our hopes are to be achieved."

Colombia, with former President Alberto Lleras Camargo at the helm, was the first country in Latin America to submit a long-range plan for the program a year ago.

It proposed 22,000 new classrooms, 43,000 housing units, irrigation projects, agricultural development and industrial programs to create thousands of new jobs. In 10 years, the Colombian planners figured, per capita income could be increased to $286 a year.

The total investment would amount to a $8.4 billion, of which $1.7 billion would come from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But Valencia said "all too little" has come Colombia's way so far. About $40 million was spent in the first year of President Kennedy's program. Another $150 million was committed but has not been disbursed.

Valencia says Fidel Castro's communist Cuban regime is trying to gain a foothold in his nation by remote mountain areas.

Development Agencies Plan Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A meeting of the Southern Association of State Planning Development Agencies in Hot Springs today is expected to attract industrial developers and planners from 16 southern states.

Host for the three-day meeting will be William P. Rock of Little Rock, president of the association and executive director of the Arkansas Industrial Development

Describes TV Show as a Delight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

A PTElevision-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Kaye is probably the most talented and endearing clown currently practicing his art. Lucille Ball is generally conceded to be our premiere comedienne. Throw them together before the television cameras, and the result is bound to be just what it was Sunday night: a delight.

In the hour-long NBC special, Kaye danced, sang and told a droll story in a perfect imitation of Maurice Chevalier's English accent. Miss Ball turned up doing a tentative twist and even essayed a song. She also attempted a few imitations. If she did not quite capture her subjects—Judy Garland, Carol Channing and Marlene Dietrich—it was much funnier that way.

The hour went by on running feet, which doesn't happen very often these days.

Arthur Godfrey made one of his rare television appearances Saturday night on CBS. It was an hour variety show about Hollywood. Arthur wandered around showing us the corner of Hollywood and Vine, an empty Hollywood Bowl, a CBS rehearsal hall.

During the whole grand tour not a single Hollywood star was glimpsed—only Art Carney in a duet apparently taped in New York.

Godfrey seemed subdued and the hour, long and lackluster. NBC's "Chet Huntley Reporting" Tuesday night will be a re-evaluation of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal 30 years after his first election as president. Interviewed for the show were FDR's Commissioners.

Principal speakers will include Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Sen. John L. McClellan and ADC chairman Winthrop Rockefeller who will entertain the 75 or more delegates Tuesday at Winrock Farm.

The meeting will cover topics such as local industry, transportation, natural resources, nuclear energy, land-use planning, national industry, agriculture and the South's potential in the fields of science, labor, employment and legislation.

Delegates are expected from Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Florida and West Virginia.

The bandits have been killing an estimated 100 persons a month in isolated northern and western districts.

Widespread banditry has been an outgrowth of political feuds that raged for 20 years until 1958, when a coalition government was organized.

Alabama Back on Top, Porks Drop a Notch

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The race for the major college football championship threatens to go right down to the wire, through the games of Dec. 1. Alabama, the new leader, holds a slender edge over Southern California in the latest ratings.

Convinced by the way that Alabama handled a tough opponent, Miami (Fla.) 36-3, the 51 regional pollsters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll put the Crimson Tide in the No. 1 spot today.

Southern California, also unbeaten, remained eighth behind in second place, only 10 points back. Points are given on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second and so on down to one for 10th.

Northwestern, last week's leader, dropped to ninth place after suffering its first defeat, 37-6, by Wisconsin, which advanced from eighth to fourth. Mississippi, a 52-7 winner over Chattanooga, advanced one peg to the No. 3 spot.

A total of 21 teams received votes in the weekly poll. Alabama drew 22 of the 51 firsts, Southern California 17, Mississippi 3 and Wisconsin 8. The other first place vote went to Penn State, which not ranked.

The top ten with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Alabama (22) 455
2. Southern California (17) 445
3. Mississippi (3) 375
4. Wisconsin 328
5. Texas 301
6. Missouri 244
7. Arkansas 196

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

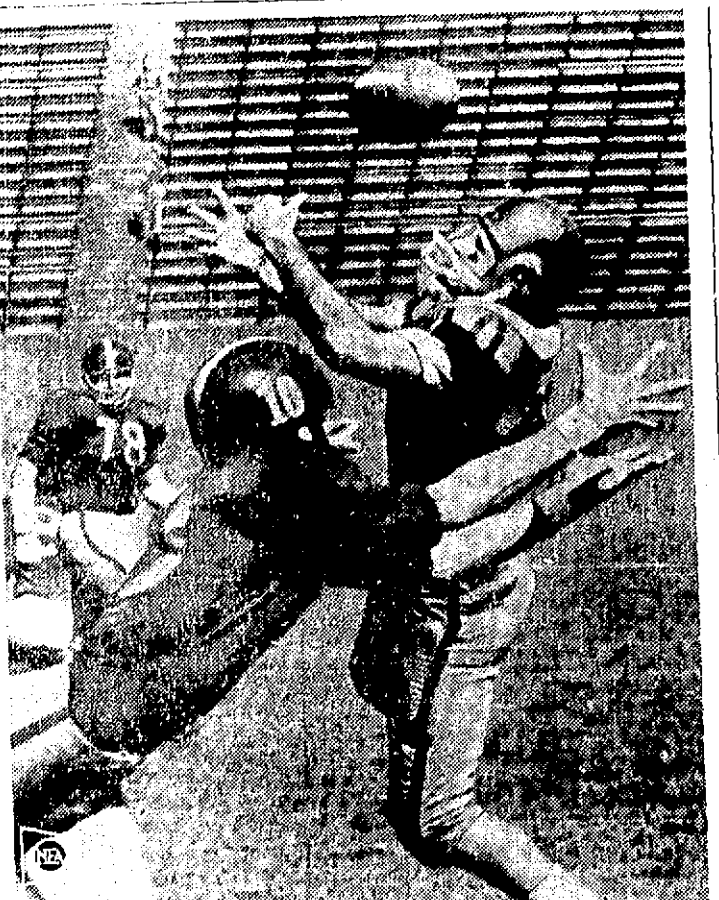

The major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Warns Bad Play Will Really Hurt

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Doug Dickey, the Arkansas Razorback offensive backfield coach, said Sunday the "bad play" is what Arkansas will have to dodge against Southern Methodist in Little Rock next Saturday.

"SMU may give us a tough time," Dickey told the semi-annual meeting of the Arkansas Associated Press Association. "They don't look like the SU teams of the past. Haydon Lry has done a great job down there."

The two years before Lry became head coach at SMU, the Mustangs didn't win a game. Fry was an assistant at Arkansas until he took over SMU this year.

A victory against SMU and another against Texas Tech a week later could bring Coach Frank Broyles' ambitious Hogs a bowl bid.

Dickey said SU will try to give Arkansas "the bad play."

"By that I mean that they hold you for no gain on an early down, or throw you for a loss, and you're behind on the series," he said.

He said Arkansas will be making provisions this week to get out of the hole if the quick-starting Ponies put the Razorbacks into one.

Sophomore halfback George Halker probably won't see much action against SMU because of a back injury that gave him some trouble in the Rice game, Dickey said. Stan Sparks probably will fill in for him on offense and Billy Joe Moody can tend to Walker's defensive chores.

Dickey said the Arkansas coaching staff was pleased with the Razorbacks' 28-14 victory over Rice, and he said he thought the Hogs handled Rice's passing attack well.

"They've thrown an average of 27 passes a game and that's how many they threw against us," Dickey said. "But we stopped their ground game."

He said Rice quarterback Randy Kerbow had a hot day and added: "If a passer is having a hot day, it's generally going to be a long afternoon."

Rice has the best ends in the conference, Dickey said, and played the toughest schedule of

250 Expected to Attend Spa Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — More than 250 persons are expected to attend the 17th annual meeting of the Arkansas Wild Products Association Friday at Hot Springs.

Among the speakers will be G. H. Clippert of Camden, president of the association and president of Southern Pulpwood, Inc.; Bruce Mety of Warren, association membership chairman and director of woodlands for Potlatch Forests, Inc.; W. M. Shepherd of Little Rock, a vice president of the Arkansas Power & Light Co.; Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Miss Alice Ann Henderson of Ashdown, the current Arkansas Forest Queen.

The association, which represents the entire wood products industry in Arkansas, from pulpwood cutters to paper mills is not a sales organization. It is concerned with conservation, wood-growing, drainage problems, proper marketing for proper species and in promoting the architectural use of wood.

One of its chief topics Friday any team in the nation. The Owls' non-conference foes were Penn State and Oregon.

"I think we have the best relationship of any team in the country with the press," Dickey told the editors. "He deal directly with them every day."

Bob Cavagnaro, Associated Press general executive from New York, spoke at a business session of the association. It was decided to hold the spring meeting in the Rock and next fall's meeting in Pine Bluff.

Loss was an all Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference guard in 1953, his senior year at The College of the Ozarks in Clarksville. In 1958 he received a masters degree from the University of Arkansas. He attended high school at Hartford.

Loss said he has not decided what to do in the future. He said he will stay at St. Anne's until the end of the current school year.

Loss' teams have compiled a 74 133 record over the past nine years. He had a losing team only in 1956, when St. Anne's went 45-1.

In 1957 Loss started a string of victories that wasn't broken until the second game of the 1961 season. Springfield halted 60 what would have been the 44th game won.

Opening Day Deer Hunt Casualties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Arkansas deer season opened Monday on both a tragic and comic note.

Donnie Wayne Soward, 12, of Trumann, was killed by a rifle slug as he manned a deer stand near Jerome. His father witnessed the accident.

O. B. Mills, 65, of Jonesboro, died of a heart attack at a deer camp near Melbourne in Izard County. Mills was a retired government worker.

At least three other persons were known to be wounded in hunting accidents.

Robert Zimmer of the Lamb Community near Waldron was injured while hunting near Forrester, about 12 miles southeast of Waldron. Zimmer entered a thicket and was hit by shotgun pellets in the leg, hip and lower body. He was taken to a Waldron hospital.

Jimmy Wilson, 31, of El Dorado, was wounded in the hand when his gun discharged accidentally. He was treated at the county hospital in Warren.

Oscar Martin, 77, of London, near Russellville, was struck in the head by buckshot while hunting deer in the Lodon Bottoms. He was hospitalized at Russellville.

Of the lighter side of the opening day activities, one man killed a deer without firing a shot, a student managed his kill without playing hooky and a man who couldn't get off from work sent his wife out to bag a buck.

Donald Huckabee of Hope started out on a hunt but didn't even get to load his gun. His car dived down a 3-point, 200 pound deer that ran in front of the vehicle on state Highway 29 north of Hope. It was rule a legal kill.

Michael Reagan, 17, of Hampton, took advantage of a school ruling that students get to forsake the halls of learning one day a year to go hunting. He chose opening day and bagged an 11-point, 310 pound buck.

W. B. Collins of Paragould wanted to go hunting on opening day, but couldn't get off from work.

So he took his wife to a field on their farm and told her where to stand, what to do and so on, then went to work.

Mrs. Collins, who had never hoisted a gun at a deer before, downed a two-point, 135 pound buck minutes later.

She was doubly joyful. Collins has never killed a deer.

Expect 10,000 at Crossett

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Nowlen Jeffress of Crossett, president of the National Singing Convention, said Saturday he expects some 10,000 persons at Crossett next week-end for the 26th annual convention.

Jeffress made the attendance estimate on the basis of the number of persons who attended past conventions.

The convention, which draws singers from throughout the country, is held each year so music publishers can get together to discuss means of promoting gospel singing and good will among competitive publishers.

Coach Resigns at St. Anne Academy

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) —

George Loss, head coach at St. Anne's Academy, said Monday night he was resigning "because of conditions within the physical education program," of the school.

Loss' teams have compiled a 74 133 record over the past nine years. He had a losing team only in 1956, when St. Anne's went 45-1.

In 1957 Loss started a string of victories that wasn't broken until the second game of the 1961 season. Springfield halted 60 what would have been the 44th game won.

Fatally Shot on Deer Stand

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP)—

Donnie Wayne Soward, 12, of Trumann, was fatally shot early today by an unidentified hunter while on a deer stand near Jerome, Ark.

Chicot County Sheriff John Diggs said the accident occurred about daylight one mile south of Highway 144 between McMillan Corner and Jerome.

Diggs said the boy was seated on a stool in a soybean field when he was struck by a rifle slug. The boy's father witnessed the shooting.

The sheriff said the boy was wearing a red carp and red bandana when shot.

Coung Soward was one of seven Trumann deer hunters in the party.

Athletic Groups Will Try Again

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (P)—The AAU and NCAA, unsuccessful in reaching a solution of their feud over control of amateur sports in the United States after more than 13 hours of haggling, sit down at the conference table again today in last-ditch effort to reach a temporary truce.

U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who spent 3 1/2 hours with the warring factions trying to hammer out a compromise Monday night, failed to bring about a peace.

He warned both the AAU and NCAA, however, that the public was not concerned with the dispute. He also told both organizations either to reach an accord on their own or to use some other alternative — meaning arbitration.

"Regardless of what tentative agreements that may have been reached or alternative measures being considered, I feel confident the two groups will themselves resolve their differences and reach a happy conclusion," he said.

Kennedy is understood to have told the AAU and NCAA that for the sake of the 1964 Olympics, it was imperative that they reach an agreement.

Actually, indications were that his hope for a "happy conclusion" was optimistic.

Neither side was disposed to give ground. The AAU was determined to keep its sole hold on open competition, as authorized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. The NCAA still demands dual recognition: The AAU maintains that under IAAF rules, only one governing body can control international sports.

Neither Walt Byers, leader of the NCA group, nor Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive director, had any comment on the progress of negotiations.

SMU Has Porker Coaches Worried

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks opened training Monday for their next Southwest Conference test, wondering what their former offensive backfield coach, Hayden Fry, will come up with.

Fry is now head coach at Southern Methodist University, the team the Porkers meet Saturday at Little Rock, seeking their third straight SWC victory.

Linebacker Tommy Brasher who missed the Rice game Saturday because of a foot injury, probably will not see action again this week, Coach Frank Broyles said.

Halfback George Walker, hampered in the Rice game by a back injury probably will be able to play, Broyles said.

Broyles sent the Hogs through a one-hour workout in sweat clothes. A scouting report will be delivered today.
